There were about as many candidates as there are ounties in the district. Govener C. L. Miller and wife, Standard, C. Carpenter the present Representative, was and had been the leading candidate, Colonel John Scott, of Story F. J. Bush ond wife, Mirror, Clear second, Major Holmes, of Boone, third Secor, of Winebago, Benson and Ree ves, of Franklin, Glass, of Cerro Gordo, and several others.

> Governer Carpenter could go into the convention with about 62 or 63 votes, sure. Neither of the others could go in with much of any strength above Patent Flour. Always on hand. their o'm counties. It needed seventy votes to nominate. The convention was called to order at 11 a. M., with Mr Morse of Harding, as temporary chairman-a Carpenter man. The committee on permaneut organization made this same man permanent chairman. In the recess for dinner it was found out that all the candidates except Holmes had made a COMBINATION TO BEAT CARPENTER, and nominate Scott. A caucus of the Carpenter delegates was called just before the afternoon session, and it was decided if in case Boone and one or id for Scott on the first ballot, and that a formal one, as the plan was, then Webster and the other counties that were for Carpenter should go solid for Major Holmes, of Boone, and then have a Carpenter delegate go to the Boone delegation and have them change over to Holmes, their own man which would give him enough votes to nominate him. When the call of counties was made Boone went solid for

STORY COUNTY DELEGATES wild with enthusiasm. They shouted, they yelled, they threw up their hats and tore things generally. The ballot went on till Scott had eighty-four votes fourteen more than necessary to a choice. The screaming of Scott's friend here knew no bounds. Webster county was called-fifteen votes for Holmes. "What does that mean?" was yelled Other counties were called and followed in the same line. At the end of the call Boone county changed her vote before the result could be announced. Others followed so fast that soon a motion was made to make the nomination of Major Holmes unanimous, and carried smid the wildest up roar. In much less time than it has taken to write this, Colonel Scott was nominated for Congress, and just as he was putting the sweet chalice to his lips the gallant Major of Boone, dashed the bauble from his lips, and carried off the prize. Here were TWO MEN NOMINATED ON ONE BALLOT, but the old Scripture rule came in, and the first was last, and the last first.
